

Greetings!

You are all invited to our annual FAMILY math night. Yes, you may bring your preschoolers, as well as your school aged children. You will have a great time seeing how your child is being taught mathematics at school. You will find out ways to access the material in the textbook, even if your child forgets to bring it home! You will make games. You will learn how your child's progress will appear on the quarterly report cards. You will hear stories that link math to literature. You will have snacks. You will see friends and neighbors. You won't be disappointed. Can we count on you? We would like you to RSVP, but mostly, we want you to COME!!!
